

Meet Kalai...

Kalai battled a heart attack which resulted in an amputation of his leg, and subsequently faced financial hardship and struggled with depression while trying to support his family. His life took a turn for the better when he was introduced to ABLE through members of the church he attended. After going through ABLE's Return-To-Work programme, Kalai found meaningful work as an Accounts Assistant at ABLE SEAS. "I love my job because the management listens to our needs, it is a friendly and open environment to work in."
